9th International Symposium GLOBAL MENTAL HEALTH - MENTAL HEALTH IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

Dear Colleagues,

The International Network for Cooperation in Mental Health (i.nez), the Global Mental Health Group from the Department of Psychiatry and Psychotherapy of the Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München and the Center for International Health CIH^{LMU}, are organizing the 9th International Symposium on "Global Mental Health - Mental Health in Developing Countries". The symposium is open to all health professionals, medical anthropologists and students interested in the topic.

Over half a billion of the world's population is suffering from either neuropsychiatric disorders or from alcohol or drug dependence. The vast majority of these people are in developing countries. Most of them receive no appropriate treatment - many are stigmatized with prejudice and social exclusion. This leads to serious psychological, physical, social, and economic damage. At least 20% - 30% of patients in developing countries who visit primary care facilities and about 50% who visit traditional healers suffer from one or more neuropsychiatric disorders. There is no doubt that traditional healing plays an important role in treating mental illness. Therefore, this year's symposium will focus on traditional healing as well as on service development regarding mental health in low income countries.

This year the symposium will have a new format which will provide participants with the opportunity to interact and participate as well.

We are planning an active poster session with enough time for the presenters to discuss the content of their posters. If you want to present a poster which fits the topic of the symposium please submit your proposal by the 30th of September, 2017. The scientific committee will inform you if your poster is chosen, those selected will be exempted to pay the symposium fee.

You are cordially invited to participate in the 9th International Symposium "Global Mental Health-Mental Health in Developing Countries". Please note that we will only be able to accept 100 participants due to the new interactive format.. Please register before the 15th of October 2017 by sending an email to: EviMaria.Lehmann@med.uni-muenchen.de.
