(Perugia, June 14-16, 2018)

General information and Call for papers

The Italian National Conference «An anthropology for understanding, for acting, for being engaged». The lesson of Tullio Seppilli will be held in Perugia on June 14-16 2018, in the setting of the University of Perugia – Department of Philosophy, Social Science and Education (FISSUF).

This 2nd National Conference of the SIAM takes place five years after its first edition and almost one year after the passing of Tullio Seppilli (October 16th 1928 – August 23rd 2017), founder and President of the SIAM and President of the Foundation Angelo Celli for a health culture. The main aim is to promote a broad reflection upon the thematic fields about inquiry and action in medical anthropology, on which Tullio Seppilli has oriented and guided the discipline during his long life of study, university teaching and civic engagement.

The Conference will open with welcome addresses by Authorities. Then, a presentation by Cristina Papa (President of the Foundation Angelo Celli for a health culture) will follow. Alessandro Lupo (President of SIAM) will give an introductory speech. The Conference consists of plenary sessions and panels. International scholars who have intensively collaborated with Tullio Seppilli will give lectiones magistrales.

This Call for Papers refers to the panels that predictably will be organized as follows:
